

Community Pedestrian and Bicycle Safety Training

Application Deadline: Open until all slots are filled

ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Community Pedestrian and Bicycle Safety Training (CPBST) project is a joint project of California Walks (Cal Walks) and UC Berkeley Safe Transportation Research and Education Center (SafeTREC). Funding for this program is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS) through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). The CPBST project year is from October 2021 - September 2022.

The CPBST project works with residents, schools, agencies, organizations, local officials, and other community partners to understand a community's walking and biking safety concerns and advance their safety goals. This free workshop helps strengthen collaboration between all safety partners and is adapted to meet a community's needs. It consists of:

- A facilitated discussion on local crash data and the community's safety experiences;
- A walking and biking assessment to identify safety concerns and opportunities for improvements;
- An educational overview of the Safe System framework and strategies; and
- An interactive activity to develop a community-driven safety action plan.

We recognize that the COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on communities statewide and created challenges for community planning. We are committed to working with communities and offering as much flexibility as possible. Workshops are available in-person, online, or hybrid to meet your community's needs. Throughout the planning process, we will follow guidelines issued by the CDC, California Department of Public Health, and local ordinances as they apply to your community.

Eligible project applicants include:

- Community-based organizations, community groups, and coalitions;
- Schools, school districts; and
- Local city and county agencies, tribal governments.
